

StyleTech launches new company website

www.styletech.co.uk is now Live!

StyleTech announces launch of new company website.

StyleTech is a leading provider of proven high quality software design and development. Services are delivered to private and public sectors throughout the UK and overseas.

The new website offers customers and partners easily accessible information, everything from StyleTech's service offerings and solutions to the company's latest news.

The company has experienced phenomenal growth since its foundation in 1999.

"Our industry is travelling through rapid changes and is highly competitive. At StyleTech we are not only convinced that our services are of world class quality, but also that we instil a customer centric approach in everything we do.

Our services are being constantly refined to meet our clients' needs and exceed their expectations.

The launch of the new StyleTech website which includes project case studies, client testimonials and a complete area dedicated to the accolades achieved over recent years, provides an overview of the level of dedicated expertise offered by the StyleTech design and development team."

David Scotney, Managing Director

September 2010